St. Francis Church Gets New Pastors

Father Colman Colloty, OFM pastor of St. Francis Catholic Church for the past eight years and Father Hilary Hobrec OFM, assistant pastor for past three, have been assigned to other duties and will leave Provo, parish officers announced today.

Father Colman will be succeeded at Provo by Father Ernest Wilson, OFM, who has been principal of St. Mary's School, Phoenix, Ariz.

Father Hilary will be replaced by Father Foster Egan, OFM, so that the contingent of Franciscans consist of Fathers Ernest and Felician and Anthony. The latter continue their duties.

Father Colman, who has nationwide attention for his parish with a successful campaign to buy three stamps, will be replaced by Simeon and Jude Huntington Beach.

Father Hilary will be the church at old California Miguel, Calif.

As pastor of the Church, Father responsible for the tion of St. Francis during his term a building program, a high school room, shower and expanded for the nuns
